

TABERNACLE OF DAVID MINISTRIES, INTERNATIONAL NEWS

China Mission in July

Early in July, I made a two-week mission trip to Zhejiang and Yunnan, China, held meetings in 7 places, and ministered to more than 1,300 people. This trip was in the summer season, I specially ministered to young students in Zhejiang and several house churches where I was not able to visit last time in Yunnan.

I first arrived at a city in Zhejiang and had lunch with local leaders the next day. We were deeply troubled by a young minister who embraced the prosperity gospel from oversea churches and split the local church with many young people. Many young ministers, who did not experience the persecution in the past, now begin to pursue fame, knowledge and seminary degree over the suffering road of the Cross, becoming a crisis in the house church revival movement. While it is inevitable for house churches making contacts with oversea churches, they need to have discernment against the compromises of biblical truth. Failing to do so will have major impact on the current revival movement in China, making the church more secular. Please remember in your prayers about this disappointing and urgent situation the China house church is experiencing.

We started the evening meeting at a church in the suburbs. After preaching, people were on their knee in repentance. As I gave an alter call, they came forth and some fell on the floor without being touched. In the next morning, I prayed for those who were already touched by the Holy Spirit, and they fell down in tears. In the afternoon, I led the praises and then they were filled with the Holy Spirit. I laid hands on the young people and they all fell down at once, filled with great joy. In the evening, I laid hands on all the people and many fell on the floor, burnt by the fire of the Holy Spirit. In the next morning, I ministered at a student meeting in a nearby city, with several hundred young people packed the meeting place. After preaching, they were on their knees in repentance. I laid hands on them and they fell down in tears. After preaching in the afternoon, I led them in dancing and praising God. They fell down from the front to the back, filled with the Holy Spirit and burnt with holy fire. I preached under heavy anointing that evening. Many came to the front to receive deliverance. Many cried out and fell down in weeping. In the next morning, I ministered at another student meeting in a nearby town for the whole day. Holy Spirit did not move as strongly. I almost lost my voice after the meeting.

I took a flight to a city in Yunnan the next day and spent the night at a church on the mountaintop. We held a coworker meeting the next morning. As I prayed for them after preaching, they all fell down in tears. In the afternoon, they were filled with the Holy Spirit in holy laughter. Afterwards, a couple drove us to the next city. We held a coworker meeting the next morning, with some from the minority tribes. I prayed for them and they all wept strongly. When the Holy Spirit moved in the afternoon, they were laughing and shouting. We went back to the city and I took a flight to the next city. We held a meeting in the city the next morning. After preaching, I laid hands on them and they fell down in tears. In the afternoon, the Spirit of joy came and they were in holy laughter. We then went to another city to minister at a suburb church the next morning. As I prayed for people, they fell down in tears. I also laid hands on the children and blessed them. In the afternoon, they were filled with great joy. Finally I prayed for the anointing upon their coworkers.

Europe Mission in August

In Early August, I made a two-week mission trip to France, Spain and Italy. We met in 5 places and ministered to over 700 people, mainly at the Revival churches. After arriving in Paris, I ministered at a young people camp at a village in the countryside. After preaching in the evening, not many were in tears as in the past. In the next morning, I laid hands on everyone but still not much response. Breakthrough came in the afternoon after we all danced and praised God in shouting, many fell down in weeping. In the evening, several prodigal sons fell down before God and wept in repentance until midnight. After preaching in the next morning, I called out some and they fell down in weeping strongly. In the afternoon, I prayed for the sick. In the evening, only some were filled with the Holy Spirit. In the last morning, I led worship after preaching and they rested in the presence of God quietly. I returned to Paris and preached at the church that evening. I prayed for people in need and they fell down in tears. In the next morning, I prayed for those who needed inner healing. After I preached at the communion service in the afternoon, many were on their knees in repentance. The meeting place was packed in the evening. After preaching, some were already filled with joy, and then I laid hands on everyone to receive anointing. I preached with boldness in the next evening. Parents and children came forth and prayed on their knees. Finally I prayed for the young coworker couples.

I took a flight the next evening to Barcelona, Spain, and then we drove to Madrid the next day. We had a revival meeting in two evenings with few people. After preaching, I prayed for them and they fell down in tears. I also ministered in healing and blessing the children. They wept and then were filled with joy in the last meeting. We went back to Barcelona at night and held the meeting at a hotel conference room the next day. After preaching, they were on their knees in tears. Many wept strongly when they receiving prayers. In the afternoon they were filled with great joy in holy laughter. I also prayed for healings and blessed their children. In the evening, I met with a church leader just came from China. After preaching in the next morning, I prayed for them and they fell down in the presence of God, with some weeping and others laughing. Later I took a flight to Taranto in southern Italy. We began the meeting the next morning at a house church in the countryside. The local church showed great hospitality as in the China house church. After preaching, people responded in tears on their knees. In the afternoon, I laid hands on some of them and they fell down in tears. In the evening, some were filled with the Holy Spirit and fell down in holy laughter, including the youth and the children. I prayed for all the coworkers the next morning, and they fell down in weeping. In the afternoon, many were filled with great joy. Lastly I blessed those who came from various areas of the southern Italy and many of them fell down in tears.
